In his groundbreaking book, Love Letter From a Black Preacher To The Whitest Denomination In The Us, Dr. Chuck Currie challenges the racial divide in the church and offers a path to reconciliation.

As a black preacher in the whitest denomination in the United States, Currie has experienced firsthand the pain and division that racism can cause. But he also believes that the church has the power to be a force for healing and reconciliation.

In this book, Currie shares his personal story and offers a biblical vision for a racially reconciled church. He argues that the church must be a place where all people are welcome, regardless of their race or ethnicity. He also calls on white Christians to repent of their complicity in racism and to work for justice.

Love Letter From a Black Preacher To The Whitest Denomination In The Us is a powerful and moving book that will challenge you to think about race and religion in a new way. It is a must-read for anyone who is interested in reconciliation and racial justice.
