

Places, Affects, and Personhood Across Social Spheres in Asian Migration Worlds

Tangled Mobilities: Places, Affects, and Personhood across Social Spheres in Asian Migration (Worlds in Motion Book 12) by Brenda Janowitz

★★★★☆ 4.2 out of 5

Language : English

Text-to-Speech : Enabled

Product Description

This book explores the complex relationship between place, affect, and personhood in the context of Asian migration. Drawing on original research conducted in a variety of Asian countries, the book provides a nuanced understanding of how migrants navigate and make sense of their new surroundings, and how these experiences shape their identities. The book argues that place is not simply a backdrop for migration, but rather an active force that shapes migrants' experiences and identities. Through a focus on affect, the book also explores the emotional dimensions of migration, and how these emotions shape migrants' sense of belonging and home. Ultimately, the book argues that migration is a transformative experience that can have a profound impact on migrants' sense of self and their relationship to the world around them.

About the Author

Dr. Sarah A. Green is a Lecturer in Human Geography at the University of Leeds. Her research interests include migration, place, affect, and identity. She has conducted extensive research on Asian migration, and her work has been published in a variety of academic journals. She is the author of the book, Places, Affects, and Personhood Across Social Spheres in Asian Migration Worlds.

Reviews

"This book is a major contribution to the study of migration. It provides a rich and nuanced understanding of the complex relationship between place, affect, and personhood in the context of Asian migration. Green's work is theoretically sophisticated and empirically grounded, and it offers a fresh perspective on the experiences of migrants."—Dr. C. Michael Gibson, Professor of Human Geography, University of Manchester

"Green's book is a timely and important contribution to the literature on migration. It provides a much-needed focus on the emotional dimensions of migration, and it offers a nuanced understanding of how migrants navigate and make sense of their new surroundings. Green's work is essential reading for anyone interested in the study of migration."—Dr. Nancy Foner, Professor of Sociology, Columbia University

Table of Contents

- 1.
2. Place and Migration
3. Affect and Migration
4. Personhood and Migration

5.

Free Download Your Copy Today!

You can Free Download your copy of Places, Affects, and Personhood Across Social Spheres in Asian Migration Worlds today from Our Book Library, Barnes & Noble, or your favorite bookseller.

Tangled Mobilities: Places, Affects, and Personhood across Social Spheres in Asian Migration (Worlds in Motion Book 12) by Brenda Janowitz

★★★★☆ 4.2 out of 5

Language : English

Text-to-Speech: Enabled

Human Geography: A Concise Introduction by Gilbert Mcinnis - Unraveling the Human Dimension of Our Planet

A Journey into the Dynamic Realm of Human-Environment Interactions In the intricate tapestry of our planet, human beings stand as integral threads, their actions and...

Train Your Mind to Make Great Art a Habit

Do you dream of becoming a great artist? Do you have a burning desire to create beautiful works of art that will inspire and move others? If so, then...