A Haunting Ensemble of Literary Masters

Step into the shadows and encounter the literary giants whose penmanship has shaped the genre of ghost stories. "The Best Ghost Stories Ever Told" boasts an impressive lineup of authors, including:

- Edgar Allan Poe: The master of macabre, Poe's haunting tales of psychological terror and the supernatural have captivated readers for over a century. Expect to encounter his iconic stories like "The Tell-Tale Heart," "The Raven," and "The Fall of the House of Usher."
- M.R. James: Regarded as one of the greatest ghost story writers of all time, James's chilling tales of antiquarians and scholars encountering supernatural entities have left an enduring legacy. "Oh, Whistle, and I'll Come to You, My Lad" and "The Mezzotint" are just a glimpse of his haunting repertoire.
- Sheridan Le Fanu: An Irish Gothic master, Le Fanu's stories evoke an atmosphere of eerie suspense and psychological unease. Dive into his classic tales like "Carmilla" and "The Room in the Dragon Volant" for a truly haunting experience.
- Shirley Jackson: The queen of psychological horror, Jackson's subtle yet deeply unsettling stories explore the darkness that lurks within the human psyche. "The Lottery" and "The Haunting of Hill House" are just two examples of her ability to create a chilling atmosphere that lingers long after the final sentence.
- Henry James: The prolific novelist and critic, Henry James, also penned a number of masterful ghost stories. "The Turn of the Screw" and "The Jolly Corner" showcase his ability to blend psychological realism with the supernatural, creating a haunting ambiguity that will stay with you.
