In View From The Inside, former CIA officer John Kiriakou provides an insider's account of the intelligence game. Kiriakou, who spent 14 years with the CIA, offers a unique perspective on the world of intelligence, from the inside out.

View From The Inside is a fascinating and thought-provoking read. Kiriakou writes with passion and purpose, providing a rare glimpse into the world of intelligence. The book is a must-read for anyone interested in national security, intelligence, or the future of warfare.

About the Author

John Kiriakou is a former CIA officer and whistleblower. He spent 14 years with the CIA, working as an intelligence officer and a counterterrorism specialist. Kiriakou was one of the first CIA officers to interrogate Abu Zubaydah, a high-ranking al-Qaeda operative.

In 2007, Kiriakou was charged with leaking classified information to a journalist. He was convicted and sentenced to 30 months in prison. Kiriakou was released from prison in 2012.

Since his release from prison, Kiriakou has been a vocal critic of the CIA and the U.S. government's use of torture. He has written several books about his experiences, including The Reluctant Spy and Torture Machine: Inside the CIA's Secret War on Terror.
